Local Mother, French Son United After 42 Years

BY LORENA MILLER

In answer to a mother's prayer to see her son, Mrs. Bertha Schoenenberger was reunited Tuesday night with her son, Carl, following a flight from France and 42 years of separation.

With tears of joy in her eyes, Mrs. Schoenenberger Tuesday morning relived the years which have separated her and her two sons, John and Carl.

The Schoenenbergers came to the United States in 1927 after being told of a land of plenty with money and food for all.

The couple came by boat and she recalls being sick on the boat trip because of an impending birth of her first son born in America.

Leaving Switzerland and their two oldest sons behind, the Schoenenbergers set out for the "land of plenty" and settled down to farming in the Umbarger community. And with a few months time the couple's first child was born in America and then along in time came the Schoenenberger's other eleven children born in the states.

"We left John and Carl in Switzerland because their grandmother (my mother) said that if we decided to come back there it would cost less money," said Mrs. Schoenenberger. The passage by boat in those days was $200 one way.

"But with the additions to our family in America and the oncoming days of the depression we never got to return to get our sons," she said. "We were poor during that depression."

Carl, who is visiting here, is now almost 45. At age 18 he set out on a trip to America but due to incomplete papers was stopped in Paris, France for awhile and in the meantime the grandmother with whom he lived in Switzerland became ill and he returned to the side of her deathbed. She died in September 1951 and about 18 months later the grandfather died also.

After his grandmother's death, Carl went back to France where he decided to make his home Murveil As Be'ziers where he later married his wife, Francis, who had one daughter by a previous marriage.

He settled down to a life of work and is in the construction business. The other Schoenenberger son, John, pours the cement work for floors in construction and lives in St. Gallen, Switzerland, with his wife, Anna, and four children.

The main communication between the mother and her sons for the past 42 years have been simple photographs and letters through the mail. John has never been to the states and his mother expects that she may never be able to see him again. He has had a heart attack in the past few years and she had a heart attack last October.

She recalled that the boys' father, who died in February 1966, hoped to see his sons one more time before his death. Before his death, John Schoenenberger farmed in the Umbarger community for about 9 years and then began working with the county on roads for about 11 years at Umbarger and then two years in Canyon. He then went to Globe Manufacturing in Amarillo building desks and school equipment for a period of ten years and for the last five years of his life was a custodian in the Fine Art Building at West Texas State University. Mrs. Schoenenberger also worked at the university as a custodial lady for Brown Hall for eight years.

Mrs. Schoenenberger has not seen her oldest son, John, since

Chamber To Have Women Now

Plans Magic Show

BY CARROLL WILSON

For the first time in its history, the Canyon Chamber of Commerce will have a women's division as soon as one can be organized.

Chamber directors voted unanimously Monday night to form a women's division. They had discussed the idea several weeks.

The board also lay plans for an April magician show in Canyon High School auditorium and discussed several proposals made during meetings with local businessmen last month.

"I've had a lot of women call and say they are willing to help," Chamber President Eddie Knowles said. "But, then I've had some merchants call and say they don't want women involved."

Following a motion for approval, Knowles said he will call local women who might be interested in helping organize a women's division and set up a preliminary meeting.

"I sure think we ought to use them," said Board Member Jim Christopher.

"I'll tell you one thing," said Ralph Mardis, "if you don't want a job done then you better not put the women on it. They'll get it done."

No date has been set for the first meeting.

The board also discussed the importance of attracting helium research center at Amarillo to the West Texas State University campus.

Knowles was instructed to call Dr. Emmitt Smith, vice president of WT for research and program development, and offer the chamber's full support.

Knowles also indicated he may get tough with Chamber board members who have not attended meetings.

"If they're not interested enough to attend, I wish they'd let me know," he said. "I said when I took office I was interested in having a working group."

The chamber board gave Knowles approval to contact those directors who have missed several meetings, ask if they intend to attend and if not to replace them.

"I'd like to have a good working group," he said. "I know you all can't be here every night. But, if you're not going to attend then we ought to move somebody else in here to give us some support."

Roland Black, chamber manager, noted that the chamber's by-laws state that if a director misses three consecutive meetings, that fact will be construed as an

MISS CYNTHIA BYARS was crowned as "Miss Canyon" in pageant festivities Saturday night at the auditorium of Canyon High School before an estimated crowd of 400 persons. The pageant was sponsored by the Canyon Study Club.

All Local Races Are Contested

Local races will be heated this year as each open post in the city government and school board is contested.

As the deadline for filing for candidacy nears, six persons have filed for three positions on the Canyon City Commission and three persons have filed for two positions on the Canyon School Board.

Filing deadline for the city commission race is Friday. Deadline for the School Board is next week.

In the city race, Canyon Mayor Paul Lindsey has said he will not seek re-election and has thus left his office wide open. Two candidates will vie for the position.

Two incumbent city commissioners will also have a bout with opponents.

For the school board, the two candidates receiving the most votes will fill the vacancies.

Vying for the mayoral seat are Dr. Manly Bryan and Bernard Warren. Facing incumbent city commissioner Jim Christopher will be Floyd Kiser and facing incumbent H.R. Fulton is Dean Schaeffer.

Best Science Projects To Be In Area Contest

Eight "best-of-show" projects from the Science Fairs at both Gene Howe and Rex Reeves Elementary Schools of the Canyon Independent School District were selected this week to advance to the 13th annual Texas Panhandle Science Fair to be held in Amarillo April 3-5.

Last week, seven projects were named to the Panhandle Science Fair from Canyon Junior High School's science fair judging. Those named to the fair from Canyon Junior High last week were entries by Larry Meeks, David Finke, Ricky Lyles, Cheryl Sykes, Larry Young, Mendy Hicks, and Connie Davis.

Selected as best-of-show projects at Rex Reeves were Jay Findley's earth and space exhibit; Elliott Berry's zoology exhibit; Neil Carter's botany display and Howard Drake's physics project. Alternate best of show went to Marcella Patterson in the medicine and health division.

Named as Panhandle Science Fair entries at Gene Howe Elementary School were Kenny Basinger, physics division; Mike Tucker, earth and space entry; Kathy Adkins, medicine and health; and Darla Carthel, physics.

The elementary winners and their exhibits from Rex Reeves were:

Jay Findley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Findley, a fifth grade student using earth and space division classification for an exhibit on the construction and use of simple cloud chambers. He is a homeroom student of Kay Cates.

Elliott Berry, zoology exhibit, showing the life cycle of the honey bee. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Berry and in the fifth grade homeroom of Mrs. Libby Read.

Neil Carter's botany exhibit is a terrarium featuring a plant living in a sealed jar with limited amount of water. The son of Mr. and Mrs. N.D. Carter, he is in the fifth grade homeroom of Mrs. Libby Read.

Howard Drake, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.J. 'Jack' Drake of Canyon, won his physics division with a nuclear chain reaction model demonstrating the results of a chain reaction. He is a fifth grade pupil of Mrs.

Commission Gets Back $376 Check

Without a word's comment from any one, Randall County Commissioners acknowledged Monday the return of a $376 check by city commissioners.

Judge Carroll Brown read the letter, which was from City Manager Howard Northcutt returning the check.

City Commissioners voted last Thursday to return the check, saying if the amount was all the county intended to pay toward helping solve Canyon's dump ground problems, it was not enough to consider.

The check had originally been sent to the city to pay

Construction Begins At Trailer Park Site

Road construction began this week on a 130-unit trailer park, to be located on a 17-acre tract just south of the Canyon city limits on the high school road.

The park, to be called Chaparral Villa, is jointly owned by Recil Johnson and A. H. Lindemann of Umbarger. Johnson has been a Randall County Sheriff's Deputy five years.

"We are digging our own wells and putting in a sewer system," Johnson said Tuesday. "We hope to be fully open for the fall semester although we will be able to accept some trailers before then."

Johnson said he and his partner embarked on the project because of the tight housing situation in Canyon and because he formerly managed a 70-trailer complex in Lake Texhoma before moving to Canyon.

"We hope to really turn it into a nice park," he said. "We are planning on a swimming pool and playground and some pretty extensive landscaping in the future."

The deputy sheriff said the site's close location to the high school, elementary schools and West Texas State University makes it an ideal location for a trailer park.

"Canyon has a city ordinance against parking trailers within the city unless that portion of the city is zoned for it," Johnson said. "We think our location will be close enough to the city to solve the distance problem of living in parks that are really secluded."

Johnson said he would "probably be resident manager and built-in security guard for the park." Plans for the project in the future also call for the partners to sell a "good line" of house trailers.

The owner of the ranch of many sections of land rode a saddle that not one of his thirty dollar per month cowboys would have been "caught dead" using.

Candidates Meet Voters During Tuesday Pie Supper

Even though there were almost more candidates than voters at a meet-the-candidate pie supper Tuesday night, the crowd was amiable and the potential office holders were in good spirits.

No candidate made any earth-shaking proposals at the pie supper, which was sponsored by the Randall County Farmers Union, but they made a few new acquaintances.

Nearly 20 candidates for everything from county commissioner to state senator were present at the pie feast along with their wives and children

Bob Lindsey, representing the farmers union, set the tone for the meeting when he pointed out the appropriateness of having candidates speak to the public in the "Randall County Junior Livestock bull barn."

Wives of farmers union members cooked dozens of pies for the candidates, their families and the voters.

Following are what the candidates had to say:

Nancy Moyer, candidate for 131st state senate seat: I realize I'm asking the people of the Panhandle to do something new. One, they've never sent a lady to the legislature. Two, the state has never had the opportunity to have a husband-wife team in the legislature.I feel it could be very effective, but we won't know how effective unless you give us that opportunity. (Mrs. Moyer's husband, Hudson, is seeking re-election to a legislative seat representing Amarillo.)

Max Sherman, candidate for 131st state senate seat: Most counties in the Panhandle are basically agricultural. Most candidates for the senate come from Amarillo. The only way I can know the problems of farmers and ranchers is to meet them. I think we need someone to not only represent the area in Austin but who will come back here and see what you want.

Walter Knapp, candidate for 131st state senate seat: You must choose the best man in the race to represent the Panhandle. I hope to convince you that I am the best man. I have served in the

Draft Lottery Chances Said One In 1 Billion

In the new selective service lottery last year, 24 of the first 100 draws were days in January. The odds in this happening was one in about a billion, a West Texas State University mathematics instructor has said.

Programmed on an IBM computer, the probability of exactly 24 successes, or day drawn, in 100 trials is 0.000000001425, says Ronald B. Vorheis, who worked out the problem. His work was originally a suggestion for a Science Fair project to be done by Linda Cornette, White Deer High School student and granddaughter of university president James P. Cornette. The numbers became too large for Miss Cornette to handle and were referred to Vorheis.

"It was curiosity and not political motivation that prompted my study. My feelings about the lottery are purely mathematical," Vorheis said.

One minute and 36 seconds after Vorheis submitted his computer program to Killgore Research Center, a campus facility, he had the answer to a question on the minds of millions of Americans.

Vorheis said the computer showed the chances of getting no days of January in the first 100 draws were Burning of the Bank in Santa Barbara last week should be a milestone.

I don't see how even the most liberal minded could ever excuse or condone this act of outlawry. But it will be done.

There will be those in a few months who will say that somehow the police caused the bank burning.

I say the burning should be a milestone because it should crystalize the thinking of Americans. It should convince every law-abiding citizen that the people who did it and the people who sympathize with them are enemies of this country.

I am sure that the Rev. Robert Raines, pastor of Philadelphia First United Methodist Church, is an erudite minister but I balk at his concept of new religion.

He saw the Woodstock Festival as a religious experience "where hundreds of thousands of young people came together to celebrate their lives."

There are ways and ways to celebrate. I had always looked on the Woodstock Festival as more like an orgy. The reverend's statement "I see the beads, sandals and pot of the young people as being religious vestments," is a little too much also.

Phil Strickland of Dallas called this week to say he appreciates the position The News has taken on pollution.

Phil pointed out that a state committee on ecological environment of the state is meeting in Lubbock this week.

L. O'Brien Thompson of Amarillo is on the committee.

Only a few years ago the wide open spaces of West Texas was a place where fresh air was always taken for granted. Now we are having pollution problems just like the rest of the country---possibly to a lesser degree than some places.

One of the most important tasks facing this country---and President Nixon recognizes it as such---is maintaining a livable environment.

Of course the left will lose no opportunity to seize on this problem. They will take the occasion to smear business as the worst offenders.

Actually it is individuals who do most of the polluting.

Our congratulations to the Girl Eagles. You had a great season and brought honor to Canyon.

Coach Bob Schneider has done a fine job with two great girl teams---state champions last year and runners up this year. Not bad!

I hope the Miss Canyon pageant has caught on and will be an annual event.

The Canyon Study Club put on a good show and I don't think anyone who attended the pageant Saturday night was disappointed.

Letter to The Editor

Mr. Troy Martin, Editor
Canyon News
Canyon, Texas

Dear Mr. Martin,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and the people you work with for the publicity and coverage you have given our basketball team this year. On behalf of the team we wish to express our appreciation publicly at this time. However, I have another reason for writing this letter. My purpose is to inform the people of Canyon and your reading public of the type of boys' basketball team they had representing them this year.

Needless to say the team's record speaks for itself. They won 23 and lost only 8; they were undefeated in district play; they placed more boys on the district team than any other school; they were on radio and television numerous times; they represented our area and our town in the Regional AAA basketball tournament. The record this team compiled, tremendous as it is, does not indicate even a fraction of the accomplishments these young men have achieved in other areas.

These young men accepted the challenge of a tough schedule, the challenge of playing major teams with a definite lack of size and experience, and dedicated themselves to the goal of obtaining a district championship for Canyon High School. En route to the achievement of this goal they left behind them attitudes and accomplishments that would benefit any school, any person, and any community. They established, by example, a sense of pride in themselves and their school that will be remembered at CHS from now on. They made winning a tradition instead of a hope or a wish. They established guidelines for conduct both on and off the court that can be followed by any team of any age with dignity and respect. They played with pain, problems, and sickness in order to reach the pinnacle at which they now stand. They have earned the respect of all players, coaches,and fans that they have been associated with this year. They have set a precedent for teams to come that will be difficult to follow, yet one that can be achieved through the desire and dedication exemplified by these young men.

In short, these young men have played the games this year with their heart. They never gave less than their best. No other team, regardless of record, could have represented our school or our community better. They have won a place in the history of CHS and a special place in the heart and life of this coach.

Sincerely,
B.B. Kendrick

Tracksters In Meet At Laredo

Boostered by the addition of high jumper Steve Butler, West Texas State University's Buffaloes compete Saturday in the Border Olympics in Laredo.

Butler, who cleared 6-4 last year at Canyon High School, has been playing freshman basketball and completed his season Monday night.

Two other athletes on the Bob Kitchens-coached squad are still question marks. Hurdler-broad jumper Mike Hodges and Half-miler Orval Long are still slowed by leg injuries.

The Buffaloes tallies six points in the Southwestern Recreational Meet Saturday at Fort Worth. The best showing was by senior co-captain Jack Moore. He hurled the discus 160-11½ for second place. That toss was also a school record.

Randy Thomas was fifth in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles with a 55.3 time, which is also a school record. Jim Hogan set a school record in the three-mile as he placed fifth with a 15:06 clocking.

Our World

OUR WORLD
By Ann Brown

The heroism devotion, and sacrificial service of the Amarillo High School students during the burning of their beloved building was heart warming to behold. It lends confirmation to the belief that Americans can safely trust their futures into the hands of the majority of the younger generation.

It will be interesting to see if the story of the loyalty of the Amarillo youngsters will be carried on the national news media. If, however, the maladjusted minority of Amarillo students had deliberately burned that historic old building, and had fought the firemen as they tried to save it, one can rest assured that story would have been publicized to the ends of the earth.

In 1961, a Negro couple from Nigeria was given a beautiful wedding in the First Baptist Church at Plainview, Texas. The bride had just graduated with honors from Wayland College. The groom was a recent graduate from an American university.

Except for the wedding party in native costume, it was a traditional American wedding. The bride had been extended all the pre-nuptial courtesies. From the arrival of the first guest to the last shower of rice, the church swarmed with photographers from Life Magazine. A friend who was making pictures as a gift for the bride could scarcely get a shot. And some of the guests were grilled relative to their "attitude" toward a black wedding in a white church.

The wedding was well attended and went off beautifully in spite of Life's representatives. Naturally, not one line of the story ever appeared in Life Magazine. If, however, there had been an ugly incident, one can rest assured the story would have been splashed on the cover for the whole world to see.

Borger has recently been honored as one of 11 All-American Cities. Can any one question a relationship between the behavior of Amarillo and Borger citizens of all ages and the patriotic leadership of news men like Wes Izzard and J.C. Phillips?

Canyon also should be grateful for an objective newspaper that does not slant the news in favor of the rebels who are trying to wreck our beloved Country. The battle for America is being waged at the grass roots, and every local newspaper editor should be leading the attack.

Surely, Americans do not need to be reminded that no one ever won a defensive war. Our military disgrace in Korea and Vietnam is a painful reminder of that fact.

Our Vice President is to be commended for his courage in denouncing the national news media for its biased reporting and actual support of the subversive element in our country.

Americans who refuse to get involved unless they are personally attacked may wake up one day to find that the war is over and they have lost everything, without ever having joined a single battle.

The primary problem with the younger generation is the bad example set by the older one. If we would busy ourselves removing the "beams" from our own eyes, we would probably have very little difficulty with the "motes" in the eyes of the youngsters.

It is true that our unruly mobs are usually composed of young people; it is also true that they are usually led by adults. While we express appreciation for the students in Amarillo, we should give due credit to the parents and teachers who have guided them in the right direction.

33 Entries By Bandsmen

Thirty-three entries will be made by the Canyon High School band department in the solo-ensemble contests to be held Saturday, March 7, in the Fine Arts Building at West Texas State University.

According to Gary Zook, CHS band director, those students earning a first division on a class one work will be qualified to attend the state contest at the University of Texas in Austin in early June 1970.

Without Aid
Don't Watch Sun Eclipse

The Panhandle Optometric Society requests that parents and teachers warn students of the serious and permanent damage which may result from directly watching the eclipse of the sun on Saturday.

It is a coincidence that this natural wonder should occur on the final day of national "Save Your Vision Week."

According to the society, watch the sun's eclipse with a "pinhole camera" or a sunscope as children's eyes are more easily damaged by the sun's rays than adult eyes. A simple "pinhole camera" may be constructed by punching a clean hole in the end of a shoebox with a pin or needle and covering the opposite end of the shoebox with white paper and then used by pointing the pinhole toward the sun so that the rays move through the pinhole and project a clearly defined image of the eclipse on the white paper.

Thomas Seeking Summer Talent

(Editor's Note: The following is the third in a four-part series on the High Plains Center for the Performing Arts).

BY LORENA MILLER

Eddie Thomas, former Canyon High School speech instructor and graduate of West Texas State University, has been named as director for seeking a company of professionals in conjunction with the High Plains Center for the Performing Arts.

Thomas, who played the lead in early "Texas" seasons, hopes to find enough available talent to begin the professional company this summer. He has been in contact with television and movie industry actors and professionals in regard with their summer plans.

In addition the professional company would include area high school students and students from surrounding universities who are interested in the "beginnings" of professional theatre.

"This will give the professionals who are interested another basis for broadening their scope and give them a chance to do something which they want to," said William A. Moore, of West Texas State University and member of the board of directors for the center.

"And then too the high school and college students will find that acting and drama is 'not all glamour'," he said. "For myself it took a year in New York City to realize that it was not the life for me."

"They'll get a chance to taste the excitement and know what it is all about before they go east or west and perhaps become disillusioned," he stated.

In addition, Moore explained that "the arts--far from being expensive--are actually a great stimulator of the community with favorable impact on the economy and can spell the difference between industry's choice or rejection of a community for relocation",

The performing arts center will provide the performers with opportunities limited only by their own ability and desire. It will delve into theatre with apprentice programs for youths 12-17 and for those over 18 will be a journeyman type arrangement on trial apprenticeship with those eligible set on a nominal salary and the opportunity to earn credits toward professional standing.

The center will also work in dance with master classes giving opportunities for dancing professionally and in touring shows if their talent may be developed to professional standards.

Master classes will be available for art and tours will be arranged for work by talented artists.

In music, the center will provide opportunities to tour as soloist or as part of a group and master classes, teacher seminars and demonstrations will all be used by the center as the demand becomes apparent.

Writers will have the privilege of workshops and hearing nationally known writers lecture and conduct discussions on technique, markets and criticism and will submit original manuscripts to the theatre.

In addition, the center will conduct workshops and lecture sessions where master classes will be arranged to benefit teachers at both the public school and university level. This would encompass the entire region's teachers.

Parents would find that the center brings to the Texas Panhandle a center with cultural advantages many want for their own children. The arts, according to Moore, provide the child with a means of increasing the joy of living, the wonder of self-knowledge and the satisfaction of accomplishment.

And businessmen have an advantage in the benefits derived for the community as a town "where something is doing every minute is not a town that loses its young people and gradually sinks into apathy" but rather lends its influence on the region in general and the hometown in particular.

Beauty Crown To Miss Byars

Cynthia Byars is "Miss Canyon."

She was selected by judges in the city's first beauty pageant held Saturday night in the Canyon High School auditorium before a crowd of about 400.

Miss Byars, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Byars, is a 17-year-old Canyon High School student and was selected for the honor as Miss Canyon over 36 other contestants in the pageant sponsored by the Canyon Study Club.

She was sponsored by West Texas State Bank and as winner received two $50 savings bonds, one each from West Texas State Bank and First National Bank, in addition to wardrobe items from De'ons of Canyon.

As Miss Canyon, she will represent the city in various beauty pageants in the area. First runnerup in the contest was Becky Brewer, a 21-year-old West Texas State University student and daughter of Mrs. Quinton Brewer. She was sponsored by Neil DeBord Texaco and will serve as alternate in the event that Miss Byars is unable to attend the various area pageants.

Second runnerup was Jan Westfall, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Westfall. She was sponsored by Eddie's New and Used Cars. Prosecutor Sees No Problem In Bridges Case

BY SAM ALLRED

A 23-year-old Amarillo man accused of narcotics violations in both Potter and Randall Counties is undergoing trial in Amarillo, but win or lose has Randall County to worry about April 6.

Richard Dean Bridges, currently being held in Potter County jail in lieu of $70,000 in bonds, will be tried in 47th District Court April 6 on a charge of sale of marijuana.

Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen has also filed a charge of using a person under the age of 21 to transport marijuana against Bridges, but the trial date for the second charge has not been set.

The defendant had a charge against him of using a person under the age of 21 to sell a dangerous drug delayed Monday in 181st District Court in Amarillo when Judge Don Dean ruled the charge invalid because it did not state who was doing the selling.

Dowlen said Tuesday his charges against Bridges arose "out of completely different circumstances" and that he did not forsee any problems along the lines the prosecuter in Potter County has had.

Permission to try Bridges in Potter and Randall Counties came only after hours of extensive debate Saturday in 181st District Court.

Def. Atty. Bob Carnahan introduced a motion for a change of venue for the trial, stating he was willing to let the prosecuter "select his own county, outside the scope of local television and newspaper coverage."

Carnahan put a string of witnesses on the stand to testify they felt the defendant could not receive a fair and impartial trial in Potter County because of extensive pre-trial publicity.

The defense attorney put on the stand all three Amarillo television stations' new directors, the librarian from the Amarillo newspaper, several defense lawyers, a Catholic priest and several young people.

Dist. Atty. Tom Curtis countered by saying Carnahan had not proven anything except the case received a lot of publicity.

"Important cases involving serious crimes and serious charges do get a lot of publicity," Curtis said. "There is nothing, illegal, immoral or unfair about that."

Judge Dean ruled that he would deny the motion for a change of venue but that he would keep in mind the court's right to change venue on its own "as the selection of jurors continues."

Bridges was one of 16 persons arrested Jan. 16 for alleged narcotics violations through the undercover work of Mrs. Carolyn Carrlson, who for a period of months posed as a high school drug user.

In addition to the narcotics charges against him in both counties, Bridges faces a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property in Potter County.

Installing Gas Air Conditioning in the Winter is for the

and just about everybody who loves comfort and knows a wise move when they see one. Installing gas air conditioning now will allow you to beat the spring rush that always comes with that first hot or dusty day. So, while others are waiting for the overworked installers, you'll be cool, calm and collected...already enjoying the benefits of your winter air conditioning buy. Gas quietly cools your whole house for what you may have been paying to cool two or three rooms before. And, you'll save on repairs, too, because gas air conditioning has no compressor to break down or wear out, and a compressor is a usual source of failure in other air conditioning systems.

So, join the smart ones. Call Pioneer today and tell them you'd like to find out more about installing gas air conditioning in winter. A representative will come tell you just what it will take to convert your present forced air heating system to gas air conditioning. It costs you nothing to get a complete cooling survey of your home or business.

Tracksters At CHS Preparing For Meets

The last basketball has split the hoops for the season and it is too soon for the stadium to echo the cheers of football fans, but track and field enthusiasts can get ready to start boosting the Canyon Eagles.

Coach Jack York currently has 18 boys out stretching, sprinting and groaning in preparation for the 1970 five-meet track season, and the early indications are that Canyon can continue its winning ways.

York has not selected his sprint and mile relay's spikesters but he indicated Monday that the Eagles' hopes in some of the field events could center on a pair of leaping upper-classmen.

"David Harper is coming along real well in the pole vault," York said. "Harper is a senior and has been looking good in practice. Chris Olson, a junior, is already topping 5-feet-11 in the high jump which is good for this early in the season."

The track coach also had good words for runners David Erwin, John Hoover and Jerry Carlisle, all of whom should help the Canyon effort in the sprint and dash events.

The Canyon squad will take to the tracks March 14 at their first meet in Levelland. During the season they will compete March 21 at Hereford, March 28 at Dumas, April 4 at Borger, Aprill 11 at Amarillo and then host the district meet April 18 in the Canyon stadium.

The track hopefuls will compete in nine track and five field events during the short season. The field events are the shot put, pole vault, long jump, high jump and discus.

The running events include the sprint 440 relay, the 880, 220, 100 yard dash, 120-yard high hurdles, 330 intermediate hurdles, the mile, the mile relay and the 440 yard open.

Coach York indicated it is going to take some fast times to clinch district wins this year.

"I think it is going to take 9.7 second time to win the 100-yard dash," he said. "I suspect the mile will go at about 4:25."

The coach declined to indicate the current times for miler Frank Belcher, a fleet inside safety for the Canyon football team, but indicated the young miler should have some good runs during the meets.

"One thing I would like to point out for the fans," Coach York said. "Track is no different than football or basketball. The boys are out giving it all they have and it helps to have people in the stands. A little cheering never fails to keep the adrenaline pumping."

Steve Butler, the only Eagle to win a district event in track last year is currently enrolled in the basketball program at West Texas State University. Butler captured first place in the high jumping competition.

Flying Club Will Meet

The newly-organized Buffalo Flying Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the Windsor Room of the Student Union Building at West Texas State University to formalize by-laws and elect officers.

Mike Waugh, interim president, said about 40 persons attended last week's meeting of the club.

The flying club is open to students and faculty of WTSU.

Waugh said the club will have three rental planes at its disposal.

He said the club will conduct a flight school.

WT Basketball Season Ends On Dreary Note

It was a disappointing season for the West Texas State University Buffaloes as they closed out play this year with a 96-80 loss to the tough Houston Cougars in Amarillo.

The final loss placed the Buffs' season record at 12-13.

The Buffs, led by the scoring of James McCloud, had one of their better nights-percentage wise--in the Amarillo coliseum even though they hit just 36.2 per cent of their field goal attempts.

The Cougars, paced by Tom Gribben, hit an awesome 62.3 per cent from the field.

The taller Cougars held the advantage throughout the game, even though the Buffs managed to tie the winners four times in the first half and to lead the taller Houston team eight times.

The Buffs tied it up first with 13:32 remaining in the half on a free throw by Eddie Fitzgerald making it 12-12. They tied it again at 14-14, 16-16, and 18-18.

With the score tied at 18-18, the Buffs pulled out ahead for the first time in the game on a tip in by Fitzgerald with 10:53 remaining.

From there, they led 20-18, 20-19, 22-19, 22-21, 24-21 and 24-23.

The Cougars regained the lead 25-24 on a tip in by D. Davis with 9 minutes left. With less than seven minutes showing on the clock, Dale Blaut hit an 18-footer to put the Buffs in the lead once again 28-27.

The Buffs led just once more in the game, 30-29, when Blaut hit a 15-footer with about six minutes remaining in the first half.

Following Blaut's leading shot, the Cougars, rallied behind shooter Ollie Taylor and zoomed ahead to lead 50-40 at halftime.

The Buffs trailed by as much as 18 points in the second half as Houston took a commanding lead on the shooting of Davis.

With six seconds remaining, Jeff Hickman hit the final score of the game and made the score 96-80 in Houston's favor.

In the first half, the Buffs hit 15 of 41 from the field and 10 of 13 from the charity line. Houston hit 18 of 29 from the field and 14 of 19 freethrows.

Eddie Fitzgerald hit 13 points to lead Buffalo first half scoring, followed by Ron Howle, who had 10 points.

For the game, the Buffs were led in the scoring department by McCloud, who hit 10 of 26 from the field and five of seven from the free throw line for 25 points. He was followed by Fitzgerald, who hit 8 of 19 from the field and six of 10 free throws for 22 points. Dale Blaut, averaging better than 20 points this year, made 15 points, tallying on seven of 16 from the field and 1 of 1 from the charity line.

Other WTSU scorers were Howle with 12 and David Cole, Rick Bacon and Lou Koning with two each.

Davis hit 31 points for Houston to lead Cougar scoring.

He was followed by Tom Gribben with 18 and Hickman with 15.

The Buffs hit 66.7 per cent of their free throws and Houston hit 76.9 per cent.

West Texas led in the rebounding department, pulling down 40 for the night, while Houston took 37 from the boards.

Fitzgerald was big rebounder for the Buffs with 15, followed by McCloud with 11. Taylor took 17 rebounds to lead the Cougars.

WT Baseball Season To Open Today

West Texas State opens its baseball season with a road trip today and Friday. The Buffaloes meet University of Texas at Arlington in a doubleheader Friday afternoon and battle SMU's Mustangs in two games Saturday afternoon.

Coach Bob Sloan says of his ball club, "We will be strong defensively, and have average hitting. Our success or failure this year will depend upon our reserve strength and pitching."

Sloan says the Buffalo pitching staff, led by David Sharp, Larry Huffine, Bob Sine and John Dever, has looked strong in practice during intrasquad games.

Sharp and Huffine will hurl the Arlington games and Sine and Dever will throw against SMU. Sharp is a letterman, while Huffine is a freshman and Sine and Dever are junior college transfers. When not pitching Sine plays right field for the Buffaloes.

Rusten, Sharp and Glasscock are the only returning lettermen starting. Henderson, Runyan, Shivers, Cash and Sine are junior college transfers and Liles is a freshman.

2 More Sign With Buffs

West Texas State University has signed a pair of standout football prospects to athletic scholarship agreements.

The players are running back Billy Pritchett and split receiver Carl Brown. Assistant coach Lance Van Zandt signed the players and head coach and director of athletics Joe Kerbel announced the signings Tuesday.

Pritchett, 6-4 and 226, has received scholarship offers from major colleges from many parts of the nation, including schools from the Southwest Conference, Big Eight Conference, Big Ten Conference and Western Athletic Conference.

"Billy combines size and desire with 10-flat speed in the 100-yard dash to make him an outstanding prospect," said Van Zandt.

Pritchett, who was injured during part of this past season, was all-district in both footaball and basketball, as was his teammate Brown. Both Brown and Pritchett earned their way to the state meet last year in track.

Brown, 6-2½ and 170, was a second team all-state selection in football this year in Class A.

Dear friends,

The making of a will is one of the most important acts in a man's life. By his will, he plans the distribution of the fruits of his life's work and the welfare and future of his loved ones.

A will usually lessens family disagreement, reduces probate expenses, inheritance taxes, and confusion. In our profession, we repeatedly see the advantage of a properly drawn will.

Respectfully,

Jerry N. LaGrone

state legislature a total of eight sessions. I'm the only experienced legislator in the race. Choose the man who has fought against gun control legislation, corporation farming, who supported riot control legislation, who fought forced consolidation of small school districts. Choose the man who's been there and who has earned the respect of his colleagues in the house and senate.

Jerry Kolander, candidate for 181st District Judge: I feel I know Canyon as well as I do Amarillo having worked with various civic projects. This judgeship is an education you have to go through. The real test of the judge is whether he knows the people in the community and does he work in the community. If elected, I can promise you one thing--I can't work for you but I can work with you. I think in 22 years, I have qualified myself for this job. I do have experience on the bench. I feel I do have all the qualifications and experience. It is that experience I'm asking you to consider seriously tonight.

Don Dean, candidate and incumbent of 181st District Court: I was proud to be chosen by Gov. Smith to be the first judge of the newly-created 181st District Court. I was chosen from a long list of well-qualified attorneys in Amarillo, which included my two opponents. I agree that experience makes the difference. As judge of the 181st District Court, I'm getting worlds of experience. In the first five months, my court dispensed with more than 200 cases, 120 of which were tried by me. To project this to Jan. 1971, that would be 600 to 700 cases through my court. By the time next fall comes, I will be an experienced judge. I hope you see your way clear to give me a full term.

Carroll Brown, candidate for 181st District Judge: As a judge in district court, the principle ingredient that goes into determining whether or not a fair trial is given is the sincerity and honesty of the man on the bench and the knowledge he might have not only of working with people so he has a sufficient knowledge of business and community affairs, as well as legal and service on the bench. I have dealt with juvenile problems and misdemeanors. Another great job of the district court is to work with both counties. (Brown is currently Randall County Judge.)

Rhett Plank, candidate for district attorney: Randall County has not only a strong need for high conviction rate but for making these convictions stick. If we send a lot of people down for two or three years and they come back and get in trouble again that isn't good. They need to go down for a long time. Those committing crimes must realize that the reason heavy sentences are set are because crimes are against society.

Woody Pond, candidate for Randall County Judge: I have been county judge in Roberts County and they didn't shoot me for that so I figured I'd try again. I fully understand the problems of the county judge. There are many things the judge is responsible for. Most important part of his court is as juvenile judge. I am juvenile probation officer of Randall County and I have dedicated myself to youth and trying to get them over the rough spots. If I'm elected I'll do my best. I'll be Randall County Judge not just for a little segment of the county but for the whole county.

John Fulgenzi, candidate for Randall County Commissioner, precinct 2: I'm running to offer a background of engineering to this office. As the county participates in major industrial and agricultural growth, it will become the responsibility of the office to understand the problems of rural and urban growth. I recommend cooperative programs. I recommend a joint planning board. As our cities expand to encompass counties, the areas not within the cities must be constructed so those areas when they come into the cities can come in with the least amount of trouble. I would like to see the establishment of an engineering school at West Texas State and to see the agricultural school beefed up.

Wayne Barfield, candidate for county commissioner, precinct 2: You must have cooperation between Randall County and the City of Canyon. Randall County is one of the fastest growing counties in the state. It must have progressive leadership. We can't pass the buck to future generations to get things moving.

Oth Miller, candidate for county commissioner, precinct 2: I agree that the fundamental problem in the City of Canyon and Randall County is to keep the government on a local level. You need experience in handling programs.

Bill Butler, candidate and incumbent of county commission precinct 4: I agree with all these distinguished gentlemen that experience is a good thing. I intend to run on the record which I think I have established.

for one-third of the salary of a part-time employee.

County Commissioners indicated at their Monday meeting they will place the dump ground item on their agenda for next week.

In other action Monday, commissioners were mildly ired by a letter from Pioneer Natural Gas Co. which notified them the company was to construct pipelines on several roads in the county.

Judge Brown, in reading the letter, noted that construction was to begin Feb.20.

Commissioner Clarence Beckman said the county does not assume any responsibility for the pipeline since the company had begun work on the lines before notifying the county of the move.

Glenn Dowlen pointed out that if the road under which the line is placed is ever paved, the lines will have to be cased.

"If they put the lines in there without any authority, then they'll have to case it." Beckman said.

"If it's already in, then there's no use us worrying about it," Dowlen said.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, county tax assessor-collector, appeared before commissioners and said she thought she could sell several pieces of equipment in her office. The equipment is not now being used since commissioners voted to computerize the tax rolls and voter registration.

Mrs. Bruse said the equipment might be sold for as much as $8,500.

But, commissioners said the computerization of tax rolls is just being tried for a trial period and might not be a permanent situation.

West Texas State University's Killgore computer center was officially designated as central counting station for the May 2 primary elections by commissioners.

They also named Ray Clements of Datamedia of Dallas tabulation supervisor and programmer for the election. LeRoy Hutton, county clerk, was named manager of central counting for the primaries.

In other action, the commission set a $10 charge for registered voter lists in the county. The $10 fee will be charged for each list to candidates. A fee of $25 will be charged various companies wanting voter registration lists.

Free lists will be provided chairmen of each party in the county.

as 0.000030281736, or three chances in 100,000. The probability of drawing 10 days out of 100 trials was 0.130413458053 or 13 chances in 100. There are only five chances in 1,000 of drawing 15 days and the "probability of drawing 27 days or more is almost impossible. However, it could happen, but the probability would be an astronomical number," he said.

If a person was guessing, Vorheis said, he could expect about 80 per cent of the time that the number of January dates drawn in the first 100 draws would be between 6 to 11 days.

Vorheis used the hypergeometric distribution function for sampling without replacement to compute his work. The mathematical function was used because the date capsules were not replaced once they were withdrawn.

Vorheis said the computation would have probably taken him over a month, working eight hours a day with overtime, to do by hand.

The figure are not intended to be represented as facts, only probabilities, he said. For those people born in the 24 days of January chosen, that one chance in a billion rolled around.

leaving him in Switzerland when he was three years old. One daughter, Mrs. Dallas Bishop of Amarillo, visited in July 1967 with both John and Carl and this sparked anew the desire to visit America for Carl.

Carl arrived Tuesday night and will depart on March 24. He said that his flight cost $425 American dollars or 2,375 French francs. While he is in America, John will visit the farms and homes of his brothers and sisters born here and those who have married and scattered to neighboring states are all hoping to return home during his stay for a three-week period of visitation.

Receiving word of Carl's plan to visit only ten days ago, Mrs. Schoenenberger has lived in a constant state of "disbelief" and said that "she was so excited that she just couldn't believe it to be true until she saw him".

And so with Carl's arrival comes reunion time at the Schoenenberger home just west of Canyon---and those expected to visit during the three weeks Carl is home are his twelve brothers and sisters who have been born in the states including Albert and his wife and three children of Happy; Berta and her two children of Amarillo; Lucy and her two children from California; Anna who teaches in Arkansas; Adelle and two children of Amarillo; Christine and four children of Amarillo; Mary of New Mexico; Joe and three chldren from Oklahoma; Tony and his four children from Louisiana; Evelyn from Louisiana; Theresa and three children of Amarillo Marcella of California and numerous in-laws.

Counting John's family in Switzerland, Mrs. Schoenenberger has a heritage of 28 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren.

And so when Mrs Schoenenberger goes to her church on Sunday morning she will give a special "thank you" to have the opportunity to be reunited with her son after these many long years apart.

The junior high jumpers will include Willie McAlpine, Bob Horton, Ronnie Barnes, Lew Tverski, Floyd Guinn and Eddie Smith.

Admission to game is set at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students, with receipts to be used for "C" Club projects. Coach Good said Wednesday officials for the game would be flown in from Mexico City.

automatic resignation.

Black announced that just over 100 tickets have been sold to the chamber's annual banquet which is set for March 18. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes is to be guest speaker.

The chamber also approved a red, white and blue banner which--if sold--will be hung from each light post in Canyon during the summer months when the musical drama "TEXAS" is produced in Palo Duro Canyon.

The banner was designed by Black and consists of a white star centered on a field of white and blue.

Black said cost of the flags could run about $7 each.

The board discussed briefly their April 10 magic show, featuring Fred Story of Tulia. Called "20th Century Phantasia," the show will be staged in the CHS auditorium. Tickets will go on sale shortly for $1.50 per ticket for adults and 75 cents per ticket for children.

Knowles outlined the several meetings held last month with merchants to gather more ideas to promote Canyon and said he feels the meetings "did a good job as far as getting the merchants interested."

In other business, the chamber appropriated $250 to be used for the West Texas State University coaching clinic later this month.

Friday Begins Scout Week For Girls

Friday is "world day of prayer" in preparation for Girl Scout Week to be observed March 8-14.

The Canyon Girl Scouting effort was begun in the 1930's by Ethel Shaw of West Texas State University who invited a national scout worker here which resulted in several troops being organized. During World War II the scouting effort became inactive and was reorganized after the war.

The Canyon Girl Scouts are in the Canyon District of the Amarillo Council of Girl Scouts of America and the district has about 20 troops serving some 300 girls according to Mrs. Charles Nester, district chairman and member of the Amarillo Council GSA board.

Scout Week activities will begin Sunday with all local scouts attending church services together in uniform. Activity days for the week will include: Monday, homemaking; Tuesday, citizenship; Wednesday, health and safety; Thursday, international friendship; Friday, the arts; and Saturday, out-of-doors.

Highlight of the week will be a scout tea on Sunday March 15, at the Charles Fowlkes home which is being sponsored by the Gene Howe area scouts.
